OF CASUALTIES EYES ARE WINDOWS OF THE SOUL

Effect of the Eyes Upon the Disposition of Women

"The eyes are the windows of the soul," is an oft-quoted expression, the real force of which is hardly appreciated.

Medical science has demonstrated that many of the causes of nervous irritation and headaches, carrying with them a deand headaches, carrying with them a depressing effect upon the disposition of the sufferer, are clearly traceable to defective eyesight. The "blues," that horrible sensation and feeling that creeps into the disposition of so many women, is frequently caused solely through the need of repairs to these "windows of the soul."

An illustration of this occurred in the office of St. Agnes Infirmary, 215 East Grace Street, recently. A nervous little woman is the subject of the story, and unconsciously she gave utterance to a great truth.

She had gone to the famous New York specialist now at St. Agnes Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Infirmary, 215 East Grace Street, to submit herself to his marvelous method and prescription glasses, in the hope of getting some relief for her eyes, which had been troubling her for years. After submitting to the process of his method, during which time she recited her numerous ills and ailments, she finally concluded by saying: "I am so irritable, doctor: I don't mean to be so, but little things aggravate me so that I am become so cross sometimes that I am ashamed of myself."

ashamed of mysen.

"Any woman would be cross with such eyes in her head," spoke the specialist, pointing to her eyes. "You can never be anything else than cross and disagreeable with the remains as."

while it remains so.' Continuing his examination, he was soon in complete possession of all the facts in her case, and her relief soon followed through the practice of his original system and the use of his prescription glasses.

A few days later the same party, but now a bright and smiling little woman, entered the office of the St. Agnes Infirmary, 215 East Grace. She was profuse in her expressions of gratitude for the relief that had been afforded her and the great benefit that she had derived. As she was taking her departure she remarked: "My husband says that I have changed to such a great extent that he scarcely knows me." Consultation free all this week Consultation free all this week.
